Welcome to the 21st Uptown Arts Stroll in Washington Heights Inwood & West Harlem

Welcome to the 21st Uptown Arts Stroll/Paseo de las Artes! We are delighted to have you join us this year for an exciting month of exhibitions, events, concerts, open studios and more. We also extend a special welcome to The American Theatre Wing’s 76th Annual Tony Awards, which will be held on June 11th at the historic United Palace (NoMAA’s home!).

Congratulations to Devyn White, who created this year’s fantastic and joyful poster design! We also wish to acknowledge our second and third prize winners, Sam Vassallo and snoeman, for their wonderful submissions.

We are excited to see you all at the Stroll Opening on June 1st at the Sugar Hill Museum where we will recognize this year’s outstanding honorees and enjoy an evening of music, dancing, food and fun.

Special thanks to our indefatigable Board Chair, Luis A. Miranda, Jr.; our wonderfully supportive board members, Rafael Álvarez, Sandra García-Betancourt, Lenny Lazzarino and Carol Jenkins; and our generous sponsors and partners who help bring the Stroll to life.

¡Bienvenidos al 21º Uptown Arts Stroll/Paseo de las Artes! Estamos encantados que se unan a nosotros este año para un mes de exposiciones, eventos, conciertos, estudios abiertos, y más. También damos una bienvenida especial a la 76º entrega anual de los premios Tony de The American Theatre Wing, que se celebrará el 11 de junio en el histórico teatro United Palace (la casa de NoMAA).

¡Felicitaciones a Devyn White, quien creó el fantástico y alegre diseño del cartel de este año! También deseamos agradecer a nuestros ganadores del segundo y tercer premio, Sam Vassallo y snoeman, por sus maravillosas presentaciones.

Esperamos verlos a todos en la Inauguración del Paseo el 1 de junio en el Museo Sugar Hill, donde reconoceremos a los destacados homenajeados de este año y disfrutaremos de una noche de música, baile, comida, y diversión.

Un agradecimiento especial a nuestro infatigable Presidente de la Junta de NoMAA, Luis A. Miranda, Jr.; nuestros dedicados miembros de la Junta, Rafael Álvarez, Sandra García-Betancourt, Lenny Lazzarino y Carol Jenkins; y nuestros generosos patrocinadores y socios que ayudan a dar vida al Stroll.
Franck de las Mercedes is an acclaimed contemporary artist, poet & street photographer born in Masaya, Nicaragua. Arriving in Washington Heights at age 11, Franck’s experience as a child in war-torn Nicaragua along with the visual clash of New York’s graffiti and Abstract Expressionism movement played major roles in his becoming a visual artist. He is regarded as one of Nicaragua’s most important contemporary artists with a multifaceted body of work. In 2006, he achieved international recognition with his conceptual art project “The Priority Boxes” or “Peace Boxes,” created to promote peace through participatory art.

Nina Marie Ward is a press agent with The Press Room where her current clients include Hamilton, Prima Facie and Vineyard Theatre, among others. She is a proud member of the ATPAM union and the Broadway Women’s Alliance. She is also actively involved with other key initiatives aimed to create a more inclusive and equitable theatre industry for non-stage roles, such as being a founding member of the Beyond the Stage Door program and of the RISE (Representation, Inclusion, & Support for Employment) Circle of Advocates. In addition to her public relations work, Nina was a co-producer on the Broadway play Pass Over and has also assisted several non-profits for social media campaigns and community outreach. Nina grew up in Cambridge, Massachusetts and received her B.A. from Bowdoin College.

Nevin Steinberg is a Tony award winning sound designer for Broadway, off-Broadway, touring and international live productions. His recent Broadway projects include Tony nominations for Tina: The Tina Turner Musical, Rodgers+Hammerstein’s Cinderella, and Hadestown; the 2023 revival of Sweeney Todd, Hamilton, Dear Evan Hansen, Freestyle Love Supreme, The Cher Show, Bandstand, and Bright Star on Broadway. Nevin has designed over 30 Broadway productions with Acme Sound Partners and received five additional Tony nominations for The Gershwin’s Porgy and Bess, Bengal Tiger at the Baghdad Zoo, Fences, Hair, and In The Heights. He serves as the Audio Consultant for Stern Auditorium at Carnegie Hall. Steinberg is Vice President and a Trustee of the Town Hall Foundation, Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation and support of The Town Hall, a cultural and education center and national historic landmark in the center of Times Square in New York City.

The United Palace was one of the region’s premier vaudeville and movie houses. Designed by noted architect Thomas Lamb (Cort Theatre, Ziegfeld Theatre) with interiors by decorative specialist Harold Rambusch (Waldorf Astoria, Radio City Music Hall), it was described by The New York Times as “Byzantine-Romanesque-Indo-Hindu-Sino-Moorish-Persian-Eclectic-Rococo-Deco” and a “kitchen sink masterpiece.” With more than 3,000 seats, it is still the fourth largest venue of its kind in Manhattan.

1. GEORGE WASHINGTON BRIDGE
One of the most spectacular bridges in the five boroughs—and one of the busiest bridges in the world—this two-story, 12-lane structure was opened in 1931, with a lower level added in 1962. Dubbed the GWB by commuters, this suspension bridge—where New Yorkers head to Jersey and vice versa over the Hudson River—is always chock-full of cars, trucks, bikes, and pedestrians.

2. LITTLE RED LIGHTHOUSE
The Little Red Lighthouse, officially Jeffrey’s Hook Light, is a small lighthouse located in Fort Washington Park along the Hudson River in Upper Manhattan under the George Washington Bridge. It was made notable by the 1942 children’s book The Little Red Lighthouse and The Great Gray Bridge, written by Hildegarde Swift and illustrated by Lynn Ward.

3. THE UNITED PALACE
The United Palace is a theater located at 4140 Broadway in Washington Heights, New York City. Built in 1930, it was one of Loew’s “Wonder Theatres.” The United Palace was one of the region’s premier vaudeville and movie houses. With more than 3,000 seats, it is still the fourth largest venue of its kind in Manhattan.

4. J. HOOD WRIGHT PARK
J. Hood Wright Park is named for the former owner of the site, J. Hood Wright (1852–1940), a wealthy banker and financier from Philadelphia, who lived in a mansion at 178th Street and Haven Avenue. He made large anonymous contributions to what is now the Washington Heights Branch of the New York Public Library.

5. BENNETT PARK
Bennett Park is named for James Gordon Bennett (1795–1872), who purchased the land that is now the park in 1871. Bennett was a prominent newspaper publisher and editor who is widely recognized as a pioneer of American popular journalism. Bennett Park occupies the highest natural point in Manhattan, 263.05 feet above sea level.
6. THE MET CLOISTERS
The Cloisters, also known as the Met Cloisters, is a museum in the Washington Heights neighborhood of Upper Manhattan, New York City. The museum, situated in Fort Tryon Park, specializes in European medieval art and architecture, with a focus on the Romanesque and Gothic periods.

7. INWOOD HILL PARK
Inwood Hill Park is a living piece of old New York. Evidence of its prehistoric roots exists as dramatic caves, valleys, and ridges left as the result of shifting glaciers. A hiking trail and the Hudson River Bike Trail offer visitors chances to appreciate large stretches of the park's natural beauty in an environmentally friendly manner.

8. ISHAM PARK
Isham Park is a 20-acre historic park located in Inwood, Manhattan, New York City. The site of the park played a crucial role in the battle of Fort Washington during the American Revolution. The site served as a landing point for Hessian troops coming up the Harlem River to drive the American forces to Weehawken and New Jersey.

9. DYCKMAN FARMHOUSE
The Dyckman House, now the Dyckman Farmhouse Museum, is the oldest remaining farmhouse on Manhattan Island, a vestige of New York City's rural past. The Dutch Colonial-style farmhouse was built by William Dyckman in 1785, and was originally part of over 250 acres of farmland owned by the family.

10. HIGHBRIDGE PARK & WATER TOWER
Named after the High Bridge, the city's oldest standing bridge, Highbridge Park was assembled piecemeal between 1807 and the 1960s, with the bulk being acquired through condemnation from 1936 to 1963. Although widely known for its important landmarks, the Highbridge tower and formerly mentioned bridge, the park offers natural beauty and recreational fun that serve as reason enough to visit.
11. NIKE TRACK & FIELD CENTER AT THE ARMORY

The Armory has had a special place in New York City for over 100 years. Built originally to house local units of the state's volunteer militia and later the National Guard, The Armory later became the hub for the city's track and field enthusiasts. The track was recently renamed the Nike Track & Field Center at The Armory.

12. THE MALCOLM X & DR. BETTY SHABAZZ MEMORIAL & EDUCATIONAL CENTER

The Shabazz Center is a cultural and educational institution that harnesses the legacies of Malcolm X and Dr. Betty Shabazz to incubate social, racial, and global justice movements. Our physical space memorializes the humanitarian efforts and martyrdom of Malcolm X, and embodies the educational vision of Dr. Betty Shabazz.

13. WORD UP COMMUNITY BOOKSHOP

Word Up Community Bookshop, Librería Comunitaria is a multilingual, collectively operated bookshop and arts space in Washington Heights, committed to co-creating a place where residents support each other to live informed and expressive lives. Embracing cooperative practices, they champion books and storytelling in all forms.

14. SUGAR HILL CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Sugar Hill Children's Museum, officially the Sugar Hill Children's Museum of Art & Storytelling, is a children's museum located in the Sugar Hill neighborhood of Upper Manhattan. The building, which also includes a preschool and affordable housing under the auspices of Broadway Housing Communities, is known as the Sugar Hill Development.

15. MORRIS–JUMEL MANSION

The Morris–Jumel Mansion, or Morris House (also known as Mount Morris and Morris–Jumel Mansion Museum) is an 18th-century Federal style museum home in upper Manhattan, New York City. It was built in 1765 by Roger Morris, a British military officer, and served as a headquarters for both sides in the American Revolution.

21. RIVERSIDE PARK
Stretching four miles from 72nd to 158th streets along the Hudson River, Riverside Park is widely regarded as Manhattan's most spectacular waterfront park. Recreational facilities include a range of sports courts and fields, a skate park, a large portion of the Manhattan Waterfront Greenway (for bicycles).

22. DANCE THEATRE OF HARLEM
Dance Theatre of Harlem is an American professional ballet company and school based in Harlem, New York City. It was founded in 1969 under the direction of Arthur Mitchell and later partnered with Karl Shuck. Milton Rosenstock served as the company's music director from 1981 to 1992.

23. JACKIE ROBINSON PARK
Providing ten blocks of resources, Jackie Robinson Park is a Harlem jewel. One of four spaces designated Historic Harlem Parks, the park is noted for its strong connection with the community. Originally built as a neighborhood playground to encourage organized play for city children, and one of the ten original parks to receive a City pool.

24. ST. NICHOLAS PARK
This spacious park is named for St. Nicholas of Myra. Originally settled by Dutch farmers in the late 1600s, after the American Revolution (1775–1783) the neighborhood's agricultural yield began to wane. Many residents moved to southern Manhattan's newly industrialized areas.

25. APOLLO THEATER
The legendary Apollo—the soul of American culture—plays a vital role in cultivating emerging artists and launching legacies. Since its founding, the Apollo has served as a center of innovation and a creative catalyst for Harlem, the city of New York, and the world.

26. CONCLUSIONS
With a rich history and diverse offerings, Harlem is a vibrant hub of culture, art, and community. Whether you're interested in history, arts, or entertainment, there's something for everyone in this dynamic neighborhood.
26. FORT TRYON PARK

Fort Tryon Park is home to Manhattan's largest dog run, complete with a gazebo for dog owners to sit and socialize, as well as two playgrounds, volleyball courts, and built-in ping pong tables. The pristine views of the Hudson River make the park the perfect setting for exploring, meandering strolls, and picnics.

27. MITCHEL SQUARE PARK

Mitchel Square honors the memory of John Purroy Mitchel (1879-1918), the youngest mayor in the history of New York City, who was known for his uncompromising ideals and scrupulous honesty. It is a two-part, triangle-shaped park formed by the intersection of Saint Nicholas Avenue, Broadway, and 167th Street.

28. TRINITY CHURCH CEMETERY

Trinity Church Cemetery and Mausoleum is one of the few active burial sites in Manhattan. It is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is the burial place of notable people including John James Audubon, John Jacob Astor IV, Mayor Edward I. Koch, Governor John Adams Dix, Ralph Ellison, and Eliza Jumel.

29. FORT WASHINGTON PARK

Fort Washington Park is a public park located in the Washington Heights section of Upper Manhattan in New York City. Located along the Hudson River, Fort Washington Park also offers spectacular views of the New Jersey Palisades and the George Washington Bridge along its 160-acre ribbon of dramatic cliffs, meadows, and wooded areas.

30. SWINDLER COVE PARK

Swindler Cove Park is one of Manhattan's least known yet most beautiful parks. Opened in 2003, the park occupies a five-acre patch of land along the Harlem River that was once used as a communal dumping ground. It lies along the Harlem River with an urban forest, saltwater marsh & an array of wildlife.
Finding the arts in Northern Manhattan is now a walk in the park.
